STANFORD, KY., TUESDAY, MARCH 12, 1901. 9 A. M.

NO. 9

Instructions to Election Officers

1st. The officers should meet and open the polls promptly at 6 A. M. and close at 4 P. M. (standard time). Before entering upon their duties the officers should take an oath before some officer qualified to administer an oath to faithfully perform their duties as such officers. If no officer is present to administer the oath, then the clerk may administer the oath to judges and sheriff and then one of the judges should administer the oath to the clerk. The sheriff should then announce publicly at the door that the poll is open for votes.

2d. In case any officer appointed does not appear and qualify within 30 minutes after the time for opening the polls, the other officers present may select a suitable person in his place, and if none of the appointed officers appear within that time, then the qualified voters present may elect the officers by viva voce vote and they then qualify and conduct the election.

3. The conduct of the election during the day should be as in regular elections. Any person exposing his ballot to show how he voted loses his vote and is not allowed another ballot, and the one exposed cannot be deposited in the ballot box. In case of any person who is unable to read the ballot, and so declares under oath, the clerk shall, in the presence of the judges and the sheriff, make a dot with a pencil in the appropriate place, according to the declared intention of the party to vote. The voter shall then take the ballot to the booth by himself and vote and return the same folded. In case of a blind person, the clerk shall mark the ballot in the presence of the judges and the sheriff and then fold the same and deliver to one of the judges to be deposited in the box. No election officer can go into the booth with a voter to assist in marking his ballot under any circumstances.

4. The challengers have a right to remain in the voting place during the voting. Any person has the right to challenge a voter, but he must state the grounds of the challenge in writing and send them into the judges. Any person who refuses to allow a challenger to perform his duty, or hinders him in the same, is deemed guilty of a misdemeanor. When the poll is closed the inspector is admitted to the voting place and has the right to remain there till the vote is counted; and any person who refuses to allow an inspector to perform his duty, or hinders him in the same, is deemed guilty of a misdemeanor.

5. When the time arrives for closing the polls, the sheriff announces at the door that the polls are closed, then without separating the officers should proceed to count the vote in the presence of the inspector and make a certificate of all of the votes cast and for whom. This certificate should be signed and placed in a sealed linen envelope and stamped with the primary election seal and returned to W. S. Burch, secretary of the county committee, in the circuit clerk's office, Stanford, Ky. They should also give duplicate certificates to the inspectors, if they demand the same. All ballots about which there is no question should be kept separate and sealed in the large linen envelope stamped with the primary election seal and placed in the ballot boxes. If there are any ballots about which there is any question or doubt in the minds of the judges, they should be placed in a separate sealed envelope; but first the officers should endorse over their signatures on the back of each questioned ballot whether or not it was counted, and if counted, for whom counted. This is necessary to enable the county committee to properly decide upon the matter. All spoiled ballots, that is, ballots that were not cast, are destroyed at the close of the polls.

6. At the close of the polls and before the ballot box is opened, the officers of the election shall count the remaining ballots that have not been used and tear them from the books and destroy them by burning; and in their certificate of the result of the election they shall certify how many ballots were not used and destroyed.

7. After the ballots are counted and certificates made out, the officers place the certificate of the returns and the questioned ballots and tally sheets in the ballot box and lock the same and give the keys to one of the judges, and the ballot box and stub books to the sheriff, to be returned by him with one of the judges of the election to W. S. Burch, secretary of the county committee, in clerk's office of the Lincoln circuit court, within two days, that is, not later than Monday, March 19th. The certificate of the returns and tally sheets and the questioned ballots and the unopened envelopes. The secretary of the county committee will open the boxes in the presence of the judges and the sheriff, and take out the certificate of the returns and the envelopes and shall satisfy himself of the condition of said packages, and shall again replace said packages in the ballot box and relock said box in the presence of one of the judges of the election and sheriff, giving a receipt for the box, stating in said receipt that the packages in said box are properly sealed and stamped, and that he has replaced said packages in said box and relocked the same, and has the keys to same.

8. On the third day after the election, that is on Tuesday, March 20th, the county committee will meet at the court-house in Stanford at 10 o'clock A. M.; and they will first be sworn by some officer who is authorized to administer an oath, to faithfully and honestly perform the duty of canvassing the vote. They will then open the certificates of the returns of each precinct and count the vote, and also open and examine any questioned ballots and decide upon them; and thereupon it is his duty to declare the candidates receiving the highest number of votes the nominees for the various offices and issue certificates over the signature of the chairman and the secretary. In the case of a contest, it is the duty of the committee to hear and determine who is the nominee; and in the case of a tie vote for any nomination, the committee shall provide for determining by lot who shall be the nominee.

9. An act or deed denounced as an offense by the General Laws of the State concerning elections is an offense in primary elections, and punished in the same manner as is provided for the punishment of similar offenses by the General Laws. The law imposes upon election officers and the committee the strictest fairness, impartiality and honesty, and provides heavy penalties for any manipulation or alterations of the returns, or issuing a false certificate.

To The Democrats of Lincoln.

There seems to be an erroneous opinion prevailing in regard to my withdrawing from the race for assessor. I quit the race because I was handicapped by a three weeks' spell of grip at the outset and because of my limited acquaintance, and not because of any agreement between myself and Mr. M. G. Reynolds or any other candidate. I confess I did hope my withdrawal would benefit him simply because I felt as I now do, it was for the interest of the ticket for me to do so and I think each of his opponents, if he was given the nomination for any of the other places, would want a representative on the ticket from that locality. I reaffirm he is under no obligations to me except gratitude. His friends and mine who talked with me know these facts. I also wish to say to some of my friends to whom I have written in regard to this contest, that the opinions expressed were my own and not concurred in by Mr. Herrin or any other candidate for the purpose of forming a ticket or making a slate. I am only interested as one of the democrats of the county in having a ticket with moral, political and geographical strength.

THE INTERIOR JOURNAL

E. C. WALTON.

THE candidates in the primary race have at last reached the home stretch and before the week ends the democrats who are the judges will have decided who are entitled to the prizes. It is difficult to foreshadow the result, since each candidate is apparently so confident of success, but whatever it may be, there is every indication that it will be cheerfully acquiesced in and that those who now claim to be such honest and true democrats will not fret and pout and finally land in the republican party, like some of the candidates did after the last primary, to their lasting shame be it told. The men before the people today are made of better stuff and whether they are nominated or not we are sure will pull off their coats and roll up their sleeves to work for the whole ticket. Every man who feels himself a democrat and who will feel himself in honor bound to support the nominees can participate in the primary and the committee has extended them a cordial invitation to do so. With many of the disturbing questions that divided democrats either settled or relegated to the rear there is every reason for those who desire the best and safest local government to aid in the selection and election of the best men for the offices, and we take it that every man with a spark of democratic principle remaining will gladly avail himself of the opportunity to come back into the fold and help us guarantee to the people of the county the best possible conduct of their affairs. We have good material to select a ticket from. Let every democrat feel it his duty to go to the polls Saturday next and help in the selection. A full vote means a large vote and makes the assurance of final victory doubly sure.

THE four republican judges of the court of appeals, in an opinion written by Judge Guffy, the three democrats dissenting, have overruled a long line of decisions by the courts of this and other States. It was in the case of a Henry county man, and holds that in cross-examination of a witness he can not be required to answer any question the answer to which would show that he had been guilty of any misdemeanor or accused or convicted of any crime; and that such facts can not be proved by other witnesses. The majority went outside of the record to make this ruling, which is said to be for the purpose of giving an easy chance to reverse the case of Jim Howard sentenced to hang for killing Gov. Goebel. Judge Hobson in a dissenting opinion scores the republican majority for overruling established precedents and bringing the court into contempt by reversing itself.

WHEN asked his opinion of McKinley's inaugural address Mr. Bryan answered: "I hardly care to discuss the matter at any length and would reply as President Lincoln is said to have remarked on a certain occasion, when asked his opinion of a certain matter: 'It was a most excellent thing for those who like it.'" Mr. Lincoln never used the words and Mr. Bryan should be more accurate. What the great emancipator said was: "I would think that people who like that sort of thing, would find it the sort of thing they like."

It looks very much like there was a deal between President McKinley and Senator Carter, of Montana. He talked the river and harbor bill to death in order to save McKinley the responsibility of vetoing it and the president has rewarded him by giving him one of the St. Louis fair grafts at $5,000 a year. Which recalls the old saying that there is many ways to kill a dog besides choking him to death with butter.

SENATOR LINDSAY has been rewarded for his perfidy to the democratic party. President McKinley has given him one of the $5,000 sinecures known as commissioners of the St. Louis fair. Lindsay was one of the rose of expectancy of the democratic party, which delighted to do him honor. Now there is none worthy of the name of democrat, who regards him except with aversion and contempt.

DELAWARE will be without representation in the U. S. Senate for two years, which is decidedly preferable to having such a man as Gas Adicks in the body. The Legislature adjourned without making a choice. Col. Du Pont could have been elected to the long term, if he had agreed that Adicks should have the short, but he patriotically declined to enter into such an agreement.

THE president is caring for many of the Senatorial mendicants. Lindsay, Carlisle, and Thurston have been made St. Louis Fair commissioners at $5,000 a year and Bill Chandler a commissioner to carry into effect the treaty with Spain. Pettigrew is destined to remain out in the cold, however.

THE indications are that Gov. W. O. Bradley will land the Federal judgeship prize, as he is the only man on whom the factions can unite. Besides he is about the only man mentioned who is competent to fill the position.

THERE is no disguising the fact that the political complexion of the next Kentucky Senate is in doubt, though the chances favor the democrats. Of the 19 hold over Senators, only seven are reliably democratic, Harrel, elected as a democrat, having voted with the republicans at the last session. Nineteen new Senators are to be elected and to make sure of controlling the Senate the democrats must elect 13 of them. There are six doubtful districts. The democrats must win one to tie the republicans and two to have a majority. On the other hand the republicans must win five of them to tie and all to have a majority. A great deal depends on the result, as the side that has the majority will elect a president, who will be ex-officio the lieutenant governor, there being no regular lieutenant governor since the death of Gov. Goebel. The nominations so far made by the democrats have shown wisdom and if the plan to select only the best men is followed, the apparently uncertain situation will be relieved of every element of doubt.

THE Lexington Herald received 122 answers to its requests of 200 Kentuckians to name 12 of the greatest of the State's dead, and strange to say no two lists were the same. The total number of statesmen named was 100. Henry Clay's name appeared in every one, Boone's, Johnson's and R. J. Breckinridge's in 60, Dr. McDowell's 54 and Isaac Shelby's in 41. Three persons named William Goebel among the number. The 12 whose names appear on the greatest number of lists are: Henry Clay, Abraham Lincoln, John C. Breckinridge, George Rogers Clark, Jefferson Davis, John J. Crittenden, George Robertson, Daniel Boone, Albert Sidney Johnston, Robert Jefferson Breckinridge, George D. Prentice, Ephraim McDowell. The contest has proven an educating and interesting one and a source of profit and pleasure to the two students who came nearest to naming the list, they receiving $10 and $5 respectively.

THE Kenton county political war is practically settled, both of the factions having agreed to leave all questions to Chairman Allie Young and abide by his decision. Both sides have made their pleas before him and he has taken the whole matter under advisement. It is to be hoped that he can render a decision that will please all parties and that white winged peace will hover over the warring factions, which have had for their motto to this time: "We will rule or ruin the democratic party."

THE Sunday Critic, of Louisville, has been resurrected with Ed D. Shinnick editor and B. F. Lippold business manager, who announce that it will be democratic to the marrow bone. May it live long and prosper in promulgating the principles of that peerless party.

MR. WATTERSON spoke of "one of those maggots that infest the rural press of the State, which leads the other maggots in bare-faced lies," without specifying, and now every little maggot is standing on its hind legs and "wondering if he means me."

THE Louisville Times thinks that those anti-Goebellite law-committees will find Gov. Beckham guilty and sentence him to be shot from ambush without benefit of clergy. It would be just like them considering their composition.

POLITICAL.

The Indiana Senate tabled a bill to give women suffrage.

Miss Lizzie King has been appointed postmaster at Burgin.

The previous question has not been ordered in the United States Senate in 112 years of its life.

Senator Jones, of Arkansas, will continue as the leader of the democratic minority in the Senate.

Hewitt Green, of Louisville, was nominated and confirmed as secretary to the Guatemala and Honduras legation.

Paris Gibson, democrat, a rank outsider in the race for United States Senator in Montana, was elected to that office.

Senator William P. Frye, of Maine, was re-elected unanimously President pro tempore of the Senate to serve during the pleasure of the Senate.

James G. Woodward, who was impeached for drunkenness while Mayor of Atlanta, thinks he is gubernatorial timber and may run for governor.

The Shelbyville Sentinel says that Congressman George G. Gilbert has returned home looking resplendent in a nobby silk hat of the latest style.

Addicks, the gas man, has again failed of election to the Senate from Delaware, seven republicans combining with the democrats to finally beat him.

The Texas Legislature has decided to submit a popular vote amendment to the State Constitution, making the payment of a poll-tax a prerequisite to voting.

Ex-President Harrison's condition is serious. The upper part of his left lung is inflamed, and there is some danger of the congestion extending to both lungs.

Gov. Beckham made requisition on the Gov. of Ohio for the return of Harvey Tuggle, a fugitive from justice. Tuggle is wanted in Pulaski county for malicious assault.

Holland Whitaker has withdrawn from the race for jailer in Butler county because the indictment against him charging him with the murder of Gov. Goebel has not been quashed.

The President is said to have informed Senator Deboe that he must submit a new list of recommendations for the offices in the Eastern Kentucky judicial district. It is believed Deboe will now endorse Bradley for the judgeship.

The total appropriation for military and naval purposes made by the republican congress aggregate $424,265,248. This means that the head of the average family of five persons must pay this year about $28 as his share of the taxation necessary to meet this military outlay.

THE candidate was greatly in evidence yesterday and button holding was the order of the day. It was the last good chance before the primary to see the dear voter.

DEMOCRATS should pay no attention to the republicans, who are trying to talk them out of participating in the primary Saturday. Their motive is readily apparent.

MOST of the court day crowd yesterday spent their time watching the process of raising the big pole at the telephone exchange, which tops anything in town. It is chestnut and cost $1 standing in the forest at Highland.

IN the county court yesterday S. B. Caldwell qualified as administrator of J. R. Napier, after Mrs. Bettie J. Caldwell had relinquished her right to do so. Mrs. Sarah Kelley qualified as administratrix of W. R. Kelley. These and some road orders made up the work of the day.

WALTER.—John Walter, a good democrat and citizen, announces for magistrate in this issue and he has lots of friends who hope and believe he will win. Mr. Walter realizes that the office he seeks is an important one and feels that he is able to fill it with credit alike to himself and party.

DR. CLIFTON FOWLER yesterday yielded to the solicitation of many democrats, and became a candidate for magistrate in this district. As the ballots have been printed his name will have to be written by those who vote for him in the square at the end of the dotted line below the other candidates' for magistrate.

"I HAVE never scratched a democratic ticket in my life and I have been voting for 32 years," said Mr. E. D. Kennedy, candidate for jailer, to us yesterday as he showed us the poll book in the race of Hon. R. C. Warren against Elder J. Q. Montgomery for representative a number of years ago. Somebody had started the report that he supported Mr. Montgomery, which the poll book shows is untrue. He voted early in the day for Mr. Warren.

CIRCUIT COURT adjourned Saturday after quite a busy term without accomplishing much. The case for criminal assault on Miss Crabtree by William Clymer and others did not get to the jury till Saturday morning, after a night session Friday, when after several hours a verdict for 10 years was returned. Sentence on him and Wilson charged with the same offense, was passed and suspended pending an appeal for a new trial. There are two more to be tried for assaulting Miss Crabtree, Tom and Jim Leasure. Tom is out on bail and Jim is behind the bars. The circumstances as detailed by witnesses in the cases tried were of a most revolting nature and the testimony was the most disgusting ever heard in a court. T. C. Ball won out easily in the suit for $1,000 damages brought by Jane Jeffries, because he took the doors and windows off of her house when she failed to pay her rent, according to contract. Mrs. J. N. Saunders, official stenographer, was allowed $10 in the Lee murder case, G. W. DeBord $45 and S. M. Owens $24 for waiting on the court. The juries cost even $900 during the term, $765.10 of which had to be drawn on the auditor for. The grand jury after examining the offices and public buildings pronounced them in good condition, especially the county clerk's office.

TO CANDIDATES.—So far in the present hot campaign no bad feeling has been engendered and unless some strife is stirred up during the next four days all will be well and the primary of Saturday, next, will be remembered for years as a most warmly contested one, as well as one absolutely free from the usual unpleasant occurrences of primary elections. As stated before in these columns, there is excellent timber from which to choose a ticket, for every one of the 40-odd gentlemen, whose names appear on the ballots, are good citizens and democrats tried and true. Of course more than half of these gentlemen are going to be defeated, and it remains to be seen whether those who lose will emulate the churlish example of some of the defeated candidates of seven years ago or like the men, we believe they are, take their medicine and use their every effort to elect their more successful competitors. Having faith in the democracy of every one of the aspirants, the INTERIOR JOURNAL is not the least uneasy about the defeated ones supporting the ticket or the nominees being elected in November, but some of those who do not know all of the candidates as well as we do, and who are hardly as optimistic, feel uneasy and it is to this class we want to prove that men, not pigmies, are aspiring to be the democratic nominees in Lincoln county.

J. ROY B. ROSE has sold his hardware business at Middlesboro to Geo. Veal, who clerked for him, and has moved back to Hustonville, where he will likely go in business.

"UNCLE REMUS.—Mrs. Mattie V. Kirby, who has given a class of 25 or more children a great deal of pleasure by reading to them "Uncle Remus" and other good stories, completed the course Saturday afternoon, much to the regret of the little ones who have been deeply interested.

RAGAN.—The wife of Ransom Ragan, of Preachersville, died at Millard Baugh's, near Highland Friday night, aged 54. She went to Highland 10 days ago to wait on her sister, Mrs. H. P. Young, who died just a week ago. Mrs. Ragan was buried at Highland church Saturday afternoon. She was a strict member of the Methodist church and a good woman.

ANOTHER ON THE K. C.—The Richmond Pantagraph tells this good one on the Rowland branch of the Kentucky Central and Express Messenger Will Rice: Some days ago a drummer was en route from there to Lancaster and getting lonesome, wandered into the express car and engaged in conversation with his friend Rice, in the course of which Mr. Rice remarked that he had been on that run for about 12 years. "At what station did you get on?" asked the man of the grip. Rice was struck dumb for the time but has thought of very many things that he ought to have said to the drummer since.

The Interior Journal And My Many Friends.

My knowledge of this county is limited, having only traversed the territory from north to south over the A. T. & S. F. and Rock Island roads, visiting Perry, Guthrie, Oklahoma City, Kingfisher, El Reno, Cheapeake and Duncan, and from there to Fort Sill in the Kiowas and Comanches country. I must say I was disappointed in the "new country" as it is called. There is some fine land but it is not in large bodies; it is mainly along the streams. The best land according to my knowledge, is in the southern and eastern portions, with some fine soil in the northern part near Anadarko, but lots of the land is poor, abounding in scrub oaks about five feet high, which presents about as desolate a picture as one would care to see. The country is well watered; some of the mountain streams reminding me of old Knob Lick, which is very much unlike the streams here. There are very wide and desolate stretches of gravel; just simply sand and white at that. Oklahoma has some very substantial cities. Considering their age, they are remarkable. Oklahoma City is a beauty. Quite a tide of immigration is pouring into this country, mainly from Iowa, Missouri, Illinois and Kansas with not a few from Kentucky. Lincoln county is very well represented by F. P. Bishop, J. M. Hill, Jones, Sandidge, Tucker, Livingston, Carson and Shelby, who have shown the part of wisdom in locating in the prettiest country it has ever been my lot to behold. Kay county is given up to be the best county in Oklahoma. I know it would be a feast for the eyes of the farmers of Kentucky looking over brown fields for the scattering stalks of wheat and wondering if they would get their seed back, to gaze upon fields here that look like blue grass pastures in May and most of them have been pastured all winter. I had the pleasure of meeting Mr. Geo. W. Miller, of 101 Rancho fame, who used to live near Crab Orchard. It is claimed that he has 10,000 acres in cultivation and perhaps three or four times that much in pasture and some of his wheat yielded as much as 50 bushels an acre last year. This is mainly a wheat country but corn is pouring into market at a rate that is surprising, or at least it did. Fred Bishop, who thought that the way it was coming to the town, it soon be gone. He took his stand in the road and bought all that came that day and filled his cribs and still it comes. Kentuckians are surprised to find better hogs here than at home. If a farmer has a few or even many hogs to sell, he loads them in wagons and brings them to town and sells to stock shippers. I am told that a man could not go to the country and engage hogs at all. They prefer selling on the market. We have a great many Indians here and they are the most quiet and orderly set of people I ever saw with the exception of a few. They are making no progress, but content themselves with the knowledge that Uncle Sam will care for them. Some one has said the difference between the educated Indian and the uneducated one is that the educated Indian smokes cigarettes, and that is all. But they do own the best land all over this country, are given first choice and will get all the best land in the "new country." Land is worth from $30 to $50 an acre. Indians lease their lands to the whites at from 15 to 30 cents an acre for grazing purposes and agricultural land leases from 50 cents for raw land to $2.25 per acre for land that has been plowed and fenced. John Hill and I have secured a lease on 1,000 acres of land with 640 acres in wheat. People who have been living here for years, say they never saw a better prospect for wheat. We have also purchased 60 700 pound yearling cattle that have wintered on the wheat and there are all fat enough to butcher now. We will make some improvement on the house on the ranch and move to it in two or three weeks. We are located 14 miles south of Ponca City and two miles west of Bliss.
